Year of Mercy

The logo, shown here, represents the Son of God taking on his shoulders the lost and the strayed.
Jesus carried us, in our weakness, to the home of his Father, the fulfilment for which we have been created.
In this image, the eyes of Jesus merge with the eyes of our fallen nature, thus we can glimpse, in Christ, our new and true humanity and the future which lies ahead: to gaze on the Father and to be held in His love. The background colours go from dark to light, from the night of sin to the light of day.

Did you know .. CAFOD are providing support to those children who fled Syria and are now living in Lebanon, by providing counselling to help them deal with their traumatic experiences; by helping them integrate into Lebanese society, by providing normality in the form of school classes – a lifeline for them all.

A Yorkshireman orders a headstone for the grave of his dead wife. He asks for a simple inscription saying, "She was thine!" A week later he returns to the stonemason and sees that he's carved "She was thin!"
"That's no good t'me lad," says the Yorkshireman, "you've left off the 'E'." The stonemason agrees to rectify the error. A week later the Yorkshireman returns. The inscription now reads "E she was thin".
